DOCTOR HIT AT MURDER TRIAL

Violated Leopold And Loeb Rights, Darrow Declares

ASSAILS MANNER OF TEST

Examined While In Crowe's Custody, He Says

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—The defense had an opportunity to bolster its plea for mitigation in the punishment of Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb for kidnapping and murdering young Robert Franks when Clarence S. Darrow, chief defense counsel today took under cross-examination Dr. H. D. Singer, the state's fourth alienist.

The doctor testified yesterday that Leopold and Loeb are entirely normal and attacked the child's phantasies and stunted emotions.

Darrow obtained permission to ask additional witnesses after the state concludes its rebuttal. He will be James Quinn, an attorney who has checked up on the dispositions made in 340 Illinois murder cases in the last ten years in which pleas of guilty have been entered.

Darrow brought out that Dr. Singer had collaborated in writing a book about "insanity and the law" leading up to the accusation that Dr. Singer had examined Leopold and Loeb in violation of their constitutional rights while they were in the custody of Robert E. Crowe.

WORLD COMBAT

Crowe arose and engaged Darrow in another wordy combat. The prosecutor maintained that Leopold and Loeb had not been forced to talk while he held them.

WAR DEBT ROW NEAR END

Agreement Reached On Time Of Ruhr Evacuation

BERLIN YIELDS TO PARIS

Troops Are To Be Withdrawn In One Year

LONDON—(By United Press)—The end of the long struggle to solve the reparations problem growing out of the peace of Versailles is at hand.

Barring an 11th hour hitch, the conference on application of the Dawes report will meet in a plenary session at 6:30 o'clock this evening to sign the protocols providing the basis of and machinery for payment of Germany's war penalties.

Announcement of the plenary session was made after the German representatives finally had capitulated and accepted Premier Herriot's French proposal that evacuation of the Ruhr occur within one year.

PARLIAMENTS TO ACT

With signatures affixed to the several protocols, the conference will have officially completed its task. There will then remain legislation of approval to be passed by the parliaments of the allied powers and Germany—and the reparations question which has been the issue of many cabinets and has resulted in the fall of not

WILD PARTIES HELD ON SHIP

Floating Cabaret Anchored Near New York—Wealthy Patrons Stage Nightly Carnival Aboard Ocean Palace—All Kinds of Drinks Served

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press)—Anchored 15 miles off Fire Island, a small island on the ocean side of Long Island, says a copyright article in the New York Herald-Tribune today, is a 17,000 ton liner, flying the British flag, which has been converted into a palatial floating cabaret where almost any kind of vintage of Bacchus may be had—for a price.

On board this sumptuous floating playground, says the Tribune's article, are silverware and linen stamped with the name of the former German liner, Friedrich der Grosse.

Other and newer fittings bear no markings at all. The name of the vessel has been painted out and those on board are reticent regarding the registry of the ship or its home port. There is a $5 cover charge and the price of drinks range from $1 to $2.50. Wine is $2.00 a quart.

NIGHTLY PARTIES

The article says the mysterious liner is the scene of nightly parties which last well into the morning, given by wealthy patrons who go off to the carnival ship by means of private yachts and hired speed boats. As the vessel frequently shifts its position only those known to the captain of the cabaret ship knew at all times where it is to be found.

On the poop deck of the vessel

Gertrude Miller, Constable, In Charge Of Search

State prohibition officers, who have given Lima a wide berth in recent weeks, celebrated their return here Friday by assisting in a raid made in an exclusive west end residence section by a posse led by Gertrude Miller, the girl constable of Ottawa.

Miss Miller learned that whiskey was being made and sold in the residence of Ed G. Carpenter, 37 railroad boilermaker 966 Brice.

Armed with a warrant issued by Justice of Peace E. M. Botkin the girl officer led a party of deputies and dry agents to the premises. A thorough search of the premises was made, Miss Miller taking active part in the work.

Columbus Municipal Jurist Indicted By Jury

ATTORNEY IS ALSO NAMED

Embezzlement Charge Lodged Against Lawyer

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)—Louis W. He has been at liberty under $10,000 bond since his preliminary hearing.

The grand jury which yesterday indicted Josephson, also returned bills against Municipal Judge Dean C. ## NEW ANGLE GIVEN IN MORS DEATH

2 Men Seen Fleeing From Tragedy Scene, Woman Says

SCREAMS AND SHOT HEARD

Suicide Theory Of Pugilist Declared Disproved

LOS ANGELES—(By Associated Press)—An entirely new aspect has been given to the Theresa Mors shooting investigation, police announced today, by the testimony of a woman who says she heard and saw two men fleeing from the apartment occupied by Mrs. Mors and Kid McCoy, former pugilist, a few minutes after the shot was fired that ended the life of the wealthy divorcee early Wednesday morning.

The new witness, police say, lived in the apartment directly under that in which the shooting took place and saw one of the fleeing men so clearly and at such close range that she was able to give detectives a complete description of him.

TIME FIXED

The testimony of the new witness, Mrs. Iva Martin, is of supreme importance for two reasons, police point out. It fixes the time of the slaying definitely at 12:05 a. m. Wednesday.

It completely disproves the suicide theory of Mrs. Mors' death. Mrs. Martin was in bed, she said when she was awakened suddenly by voices in the apartment above.

"Oh my God, don't do that!" were the first words she heard, she said. Twice more, in anguished tones, these words were repeated. No reply was heard, only the sounds of a scuffle, and

Rural Police

Any individual or organization desiring to get himself or itself in the "in bad" class with a large percentage of the people of Ohio, will find all that is necessary is to recommend the formation of a state constabulary, patterned after the Pennsylvania system.

That sort of thing has been fought out in Ohio, and rejected. Without entering into a discussion of the merits or demerits of a state constabulary, there has been suggested at Cleveland, and the echo has been heard in other large cities of the state, the project of the establishment of a force of rural police, to work along the mainly traveled highways of the state.

The automobile and good roads, as products of the newer civilization, have brought serious problems that must be met by legislative action. Dwellers in the country districts know this better than do the people in the cities and towns. These problems involve morality and property and personal rights, with which county sheriffs, township constables and city police seem to be unable to cope.

Better law enforcement along the highways, in regions far removed from municipal limits, is seen as a boon to the territory immediately afflicted, and also to the cities and villages. There is no necessity of employing plain language in presenting the need of better supervision of country roads as a means of bringing about better moral conditions. It is easily understood.

One rural policeman on a motorcycle could cover a wide sweep of territory. One or two hundred of these in the state, if properly organized and officered, would constitute a law enforcement agency worth a great deal more to the state than its cost. It would create terror among the pirates who prey on the unprotected, and would be a source of assurance of more safety to those who reside in the rural districts, and to law abiding citizens who enjoy a motor spin into the country districts, day or evening.

The Grade Crossing

Beside the roadway was a huge red sign giving warning, "Danger—Railway Crossing." Farther along, the usual white and black arms announced the presence of that dangerous crossing.

In addition, there blazed forth the ominous red light of an automatic danger signal that no normal eye could fail to see or normal brain do less than comprehend.

A great motor truck, loaded with some 25 or 30 children approached, passed the first red sign, then the white arms, and reached the throbbing tracks at the very moment a train flashed by.

Did the driver see the warnings? Who knows? Did he heed them? He did not. And 10 little children were hurled into eternity and as many more grievously wounded.

In the old canal days, the fathers were wise enough to compel the proper bridging of these artificial thoroughfares where they intersected traveled highways. They sensed the need of making the canals not only safe for road traffic, but fool-proof as well.

We had not that wisdom when the railways came thru. Hence, we have the deadly grade crossing that has, everywhere, taken its toll of human life in an enormous measure.

True it is, of course, that it would have been more foolhardy to try driving a team over an unbridged canal than it is now to attempt to motor across a railway ahead of a speeding train, but there is no way, seemingly, to beat that fact into the auto-intoxicated speed kings of the times.

The grade crossing exists, and, so long as that be true, it will continue to exact sanguinary tribute, not only from those who challenge its dangers, but also from others who are entirely innocent of any such recklessness.

That makes it wholly wrong in principle and fact. It cannot be made safe, mark it, hedge it and blazon its menace as we may and do. It should be eliminated completely.

Whatever its value to the railways as an engineering or economic proposition may be, it is not, and never can be, worth the human life that is its awful and irrevocable price.

Growing Old

At the age of 109, Mrs. Nora Bradley Kane died in Newton, Conn. She claimed she never had a doctor until a week before her death, yet had always enjoyed fine health.

Her formula was: "Work hard and leave all the rest to God."

A fine formula for a person gifted with excellent health. She never had a physician, for the simple reason that she never needed one. Incidentally she escaped an unfortunate feature of some medicine—that it often cures one organ of the body by wrecking another.

Doctors don't prescribe as much pills and tonic as they used to. These have their place in certain definite ailments, but the medical profession is recognizing Proper Living and Sanitation as the best medicines.

Formulas for living to very old age are constantly coming to light in the news. The public is always eager for them. But, unfortunately, these formulas rarely are of much value—because what is one person's meat is another's poison.

Aged people frequently claim that temperate living is responsible for their advanced years.

Yet the other day a healthy veteran of 74 appeared before Magistrate Gresser in New York on a charge of being intoxicated. He said that he had been drinking whisky for 60 years, and the only difference he could notice was that liquor is "not what it used to be."

People who survive to very old age usually come from long-lived stock. In one family, members who grow to maturity have a tendency to live to about 70, while in another family most of them die around 60.

Making allowances for individual cases that deviate from the rule, every family has—by the law of averages—its danger year, when death seems to strike down the greatest number. If you have a record of your family tree, you can check up and learn your danger year—when to be most careful.

The age of death has a close connection with heredity.

Bamboozled

How honest is the average person? Chapman and Bower, ticket sellers at the North station in Boston, have lent $1,000 apiece of their personal funds to stranded strangers. Of course, every one of the borrowers was profuse with thanks and fervent in promises to repay.

The net result? Chapman and Bower say they have gotten back only 5 cents on the dollar. But this doesn't prove that the average person is dishonest. The two ticket sellers lent to only a few out of the great traveling public. Public averages honest.

Soldiers of fortune usually end their days as soldiers of misfortune.

Life is getting so complicated. Now it is just three or four darn things after three or four others.

The last rose of summer and the last nose of the summer are not gone.

'ROUND LIMA HOUR BY HOUR

By DEE

A Page from the Diary of an Antiquating Reporter: Up more times than is strictly meant for one of my dilatory habits. Below stairs, knotting my scarf as I went. To breakfast among radishes, buttermilk, a poached one, hot biscuit and Java. And all confused I was at the outlay. Fancied it must be a birthday party. But no one would divulge whose.

Having had a smallish cold come upon me, pampered myself with the petrol-bus, and away down the Avenue. With the Safety First plugs twinkling at me like late dandelions in the curbstones. Bowed in fume. Friendliness to Bernie Bergstein. In hatless apron. He, Pud, and I, with a little boy called Petie, had to have some fine baseball games on the old Lima Club tennis court.

Came word by post that Susie Smart had flitted to Columbus. For a few days' gambol with Mrs. Donald Mahaffey, one-time of this city. What! That was no uncertain nod of Officer Ramsey just gave me to hurry right along. Mr. Roy Gregg calmly weaving his way thru the crossing traffic. I wish Miriam Heller would come over from Beaverdam; I used to have a message for her, though my memory can't find me no great while.

Worked away with some zest and satisfaction at the quantity of output. Albeit, find the editorial noses slightly inclined when forced to peruse my labors. So, home to lunch, with my dignified cousin Wayne, very brown and huffy from training, at Camp Knox. And regarded with wistfulness his altogether topping sport sweater. But he wore it away with him. And went off to see Jim Poling, the football stand-by. Then betook myself back to the shoppe. Officer Swaney granting me safe passage across Main in the great Vehicle Stream. What has become of Officer Good? Oh, yes, his happy marriage was a recent event.

Dined on a leg-o'-lamb, well minted, and the hottest of mashed ones. With the best tapioca pudding I ever did eat, for the sweets.

Out to pick up copies of the public prints of this day, and waved to the J. S. Pursells, passing in their gas wagon. Then in to the Recollections of Dr. Fraud and a bit of sub-fine sewing. And did not hear the town clock boom midnight.

There Is Much Weeping Seen Among The M'Graw Clan As Pirates Go Along Winning

PIRATES TRIM GIANTS WITH NEHF PITCHING

NEW YORK—The New York Giants lead in the fight for the National league pennant was cut down to four games as the result of their defeat at the hands of the slugging Pirates. Artie Nehf, star southpaw of the Giants, was knocked out of the box in the third when the Pittsburghers tallied five runs, going on to win, 6 to 4.

Chicago, by their defeat of Philadelphia, 8 to 6, gained a full game on the Giants but remained three and a half games back of Pittsburgh in second place.

The Dodgers, in fourth place, lost ground when Cincinnati batted Grimes out of the box in the fifth inning and won 10 to 3. The Cardinals doubled the score of their opponents, the Boston Braves, 6 to 3.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American league, the Tigers gained a half game on the leading Yankees who remained idle while the Detroit club was administering a 4-3 licking to the Athletics. Only a half game row separates Cobb's team and the Yanks.

Washington, two full games behind the Huggins outfit, remained in third place, idle with no game scheduled.

The White Sox dropped a full game in the standing of the club, but remained in sixth place when Boston made it four in a row winning a close decision 6-5.

LOOKS LIKE 1914

NEW YORK—(United Press)—With the New York Yankees leading the Detroit Tigers by one-half game in the American league and with the lead of the New York Giants cut down to four games by the amazing Pittsburgh Pirates, the major league situation was getting intense today.

The Yanks have been fighting in and out of first place all during the mid-season, but the Giants only a week ago were considered as good as in with the pennant, when they ran up a lead of nine games.

The situation in the National league now is very similar to the corresponding period in 1914, when the Boston Braves went crazy and took after the Giants when they were well on the way to their fourth straight championship. The Pirates are doing the same thing now. They have won 12 of their last 22 games and have taken their last eight games in a row.

Wills - Firpo May Draw 100,000

BY FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK (By United Press)—Scouts go on sale today for the Wills-Firpo fight at Boy's Thirty Acres on September 11, and from the advance demand, there is not a doubt in the world but that the bout will draw more spectators than any previous encounter in which a title was at stake.

T. J. Rickard, surveying an early August show storm of telegrams and letters demanding seats, already is talking of speeding 100,000 fans into the Jersey City stadium.

Thus, Harry Wills who we rather wrote out of things after his poor showing against Little Nipper over in Brooklyn a couple of months ago, gets his chance at a big fight and big money after all.

And Firpo, despite his "retirement," his affairs with second wives in the Argentine and his activities outside the prize ring, finds another foot hold on the ladder to the world's heavy weight championship.

Neither too far ahead to put the winner in any doubt, but from this distance, we would say "Firpo."

The big South American already begun his colorful training stunts at the Spa, losing no time in getting behind a wicket that chills off a dollar apiece from the who see him work.

Wills is out at South-Hempstead, L. I., rounding slowly into shape.

Primary betting makes the man even money choices. But with what Wills showed and failed to show against Madden, there seems every possibility that if Firpo can get himself into as good shape as he was against Ben, he should be able to take all the black can give and wear down and fatten his man without too much of a hit.

Wills shows an unfortunate in ability to fight at all, but his old trick of holding and hitting. When the referee in the Madden bout made him stop this, the referee was rather helpless.

On the other hand, is there any anywhere within the range of that terrible right arm.

RUSSELL OF COLUMBUS

Reb Russell, former White Sox and Pittsburgh star, is playing a good game with Columbus. At present he is out in front in home runs and stands well up in hitting. Russell, for some reason other, rates as a stellar performer in Double A competition. He is up against a big pitcher when he was a member of the Pirates.

NOT THRU YET

Old Ed Pratt of the Tigers still is about the horsehide as was ranked in a recent game with Yankees when Pratt got four safe hits out of six attempts. Two of them were doubles and one a home run, all made at opportune moments.

ENGLAND BANKS ON THIS POLO STAR IN COMING MATCH

MAJOR G. H. PHIPPS-HORNBY

The English team which faces the American stars in the international polo test at the Meadowbrook Club, Long Island, next month, is said to be the most formidable organization ever to invade these shores. And one of the outstanding stars of the British force is Major G. H. Phipps-Hornby, who plays No. 2. The major is pictured here mounted on his favorite horse.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

A Being a Criticism of the Past and the Future in the World of Professional and Amateur Sports

By HAROLD GARDNER

Bennie Leonard is not only the undisputed world's lightweight champion, but he is the luckiest boxer getting hurt that ever stepped thru the ropes. Among all sorts of ways to make a living for the race track tout was a clever one I saw one day at the Louisville Derby. There was one of these typical fellows stepped in front of a venerable old gentleman, who was wandering thru the betting shed. This railbird stooped down and picked up a very nice looking pair of glasses. He looked them over very carefully and then offered them to the old gentleman, at the same time explaining to him that they were a lucky find as he had gone broke on the last race. The old person listened to his talk and more thru sympathy than anything else, bought the glasses, for a couple of dollars. Just a short time after the old gentleman had gotten rid of the pest, he was in another part of the grounds, when identically the same incident happened again. The tout was a poor hand at remembering faces. The same talk and another pair of glasses were offered to him. He looked at the rail bird a moment, then said: "My, but you're the luckiest young man to find glasses I ever saw." And Leonard is the luckiest boxer in getting hurt I ever remember. The Lou Tender-Leonard incident is well remembered, and by the way, it was a thumb in the training camp, and the White incident in another.

WALKER-LEONARD SHOULD BE GREAT BOUT

The necessary postponement would not have been so terrible, if the physician in attendance on Leonard hadn't made it so hard for the public to stand. The wise guy in this instance explained it by saying that the champion had suffered a lacerated ligament of the right thumb, with a possible fracture of the distal phalanx. If he had explained that the champ had hit Moran on the cork too hard—and by the way, a very foolish thing to do, especially for a champion, and had got his thumb busted, we'd all have known what the learned gentleman was talking about. Erasing the issue thus is never satisfactory especially to a fight fan.

It is certain that Leonard's bout with Walker which was deferred was taken by the

ANOTHER BIG YEAR FOR FAMILY PAIR?

Joe Horgan, World's Best Known Caddy, Explains How Edith Cummings Is Clinch to Repeat

BY JOE WILLIAMS

Wizened Joe Horgan, oldest and best known caddy in the world, thinks this is another Cummings year in golf. The writer collided with the distinguished Mr. Horgan in Park Row, New York, the other day. Mr. Horgan, at the moment, was on the way to his publisher.

"I've got some stuff here that will make 'em sit up and scream for help," confided Mr. Horgan. "It's the history of my life, and in it I tell EVERYTHING." Mr. Horgan seemed to imply that the recent autobiographies of Walter Hagen and John J. McGraw were altered to suit dramatic purposes.

But to get back to the Cummings family of Chicago. Mr. Horgan caddied for Dexter Cummings last year in the national collegiate and the young man proceeded to win the championship, much to the surprise of the smart set. A few months later Mr. Horgan caddied for Edith Cummings, the sister, in the women's national tourney, and the fair Edith came thru in much the same unexpected manner, winning over the redoubtable Alexa Stirling in the finals.

"We had a great year last year and we are in it another great year this year," Mr. Horgan boasts. "Look what I did with young Dexter a month ago. Took him down to New London, Conn., and started him in the intercollegiate again. They say you can't win twice in a row in this game. Well, what does I do for Dexter but bring him home again in first place.

"Ain't that significant? What happened when I brought him home last year? Didn't Miss Edith come right along and win the national? And you can bet the family cariburetor I'll bring her home in front again this year."

"I'll sit down and drop him a postcard tonight," promised Mr. Horgan. "I want him to know he is dealing with a gentleman."

Prospective caddies, incidentally, may be interested in Mr. Horgan's flat declaration that western golfers are more liberal with their money than easterners.

Gibbons Will See Greb Fight

FREMONT, O.—Tommy Gibbons will occupy a ringside seat when Harry Greb defends his middleweight title here the night of Aug. 21, from the attack of Tiger Flowers, of Atlanta, Ga., and will challenge the winner.

Assurance of this has been received by Promoter Ray Brownson from Eddie Kane, business representative of the "Fighting Harp," who last Saturday knocked out Jack Bloomfield, time.

Word that Gibbons would sail from England as soon as possible after the fight and would reach Fremont in time to see Greb and Flowers do their stuff, was received last week from Kane.

It was in 1922 that Greb was given a decision over Tommy Gibbons in Madison Square garden, upsetting the dope most thoroughly for the St. Paul boxer had been tipped to defeat him. This fight was probably the peak of Greb's ring career, for in beating Gibbons he disposed of the best man in the light heavy-weight class.

The presence here of Gibbons who, since he lost to Greb, stayed 15 rounds with Jack Dempsey, and defeated Georges Carpentier as well as Bloomfield, is expected to add to the theatrical interest of the contest for the middleweight title, in which it is conceded two of the cleverest men in the world will meet.

Pros, 'Ams And Sich

A Cleveland girl jumped 14 feet and 6 inches the other day. And there wasn't the sign of a mouse around, either.

Among the Olympic events which will not be dropped is the plain and fancy throwing of the festive razzberry.

Being an acrobat, it was a cinch Young Stribling would progress by leaps and bounds in the prize ring.

The reformed Senor Firpo is now a fastidious dresser and spends much of his time reading "What the Well Dressed Man Will Wear."

Peggy Joyce is probably spoiling when she says titles mean nothing. Look at all the Jack Mr. Dempsey has made out of the heavyweight title.

The gentlemen who have been trying for years to scale Mt. Everest should be told that nothing is impossible. Even Leonard and Walker have finally come to terms.

By the way, what is Miss Joyce's fielding average? She certainly has accepted a lot of chances in her day.

The Yanks' famous five-star staff is drifting into oblivion along with Col. Hennessy's equally famous three-star product.

Perhaps the morbid depression which seems to exist among football coaches may be due to the news that Kate Rockie has just signed a 10-year contract with Notre Dame.

You find further proof that the world is cockeyed in the fact that dogs are muzzled in August and stump speakers aren't.

American bettors won $300,000 on Hagen in the British open and didn't meet a dime. There is a difference between bunked and bunkered, it appears.

Still, you can't blame foreign-tongue delegates for not getting hysterical over American athletes breaking records. They'd much rather witness American tourist breaking ten-dollar notes.

As Mr. O'Goofy so aptly observed, it sounded like deaf and dumb singers broadcasting "A Sleep in the Deep."

Your Uncle has won eight of these razzberry-scattering fees in succession. Before he enters another he should demand that the rest of the field—the plucky Flins excepted—go get a reputation.

Receipts of the Olympic games amounted to little more than $300,000. The boys will have to do better than that if they want Tex Rickard to take the thing over.

Or it may have been, as One Punch-O'Goofy suggests, the two Fifty-Fifty boys, who were always eager to split the check.

It is fine to know that Babe Ruth is doing so well in home runs this season, yet we miss those racy accounts of his social activities.

Walter Johnson says he never threw a ball at a batter's head. Mr. Johnson recognizes the futility of attacking Gibraltar with a peashooter.

HELEN WILLS PLAYS MOLLA MALLORY AGAIN

By HENRY L. FARRELL

FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—(By United Press)—With the roles reversed, Miss Helen Wills and Mrs. Molla Mallory meet again here this Saturday afternoon in a reproduction of the memorable battle of last August, when a great champion passed and a new champion came.

The two survivors of four days of strenuous play will battle again for the title in the final round of the woman's national championship tournament and they will meet for the second time this season in a major battle.

Having defeated the great Miss Mary K. Browne Friday, the young champion is the favorite in a terrific three-set match, vying to win again this afternoon and retain her championship.

Mrs. Mallory's semi-final form in defeating Miss Eleanor Goss rather handsily in straight sets, showed that the former champion is still on her game and indicated that she may not be the easy victim that she was on the same court last August.

The terrific strain to which she was put in winning her semi-final match from Miss Browne, might have had bad effects upon an older or less sturdy player than the young champion, but it may have the opposite effect and should prime her for the fight.

IT WAS A GREAT GAME

It was only a game heart and the courage to stick to her and go down with them if necessary, that enabled the young California girl to win from Miss Browne. No one but a great champion could have survived when her game wobbled and when it seemed that she was going.

Mrs. Browne was and is yet one of the world's greatest players. She had a stroke for stroke with her younger rival and had the advantage of long experience and superior court craft, but Miss Wills stood by and pounded back until her opponent broke.

Mrs. Mallory looked better in her match against Miss Goss than she did at any time during the Wimbledon and Paris tournaments. She had more speed and better control of her strokes and behind her game she held that same stout heart that carried her times.

The semi-finals and the finale of the doubles will be played this afternoon. Miss Wills and Mrs. George V. Wicks will play against Miss Browne and Mrs. Louise Williams (Dwyer) and the winners will meet Miss Eleanor Goss and Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jesup in the final round.

ROBINSON WINS

WILEY'S Dandruff Remover

Does what it claims for it. Positively removes all dandruff, itching, and itching and induces new growth. Satisfactory for 10 years. At All Drug Dealers.

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—St. Louis, former Centre college football star, meets T. J. Jackson, negro heavyweight, in a ten round contest at East Chicago, Ind., this Friday night, substituting for Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, whose bout with Jackson was ordered stopped by Governor Branch of Indiana.

NEW YORK—The championship aspirations of Lila Vicentini of Chile are suffering a setback today as the result of his defeat last night by Jack Bernstein of Yonkers, N. Y., former junior lightweight champion, in a 12 round match in Brooklyn. Bernstein won the judges' decision after being floored for a count of eight in the second round.

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Accepting the suggestion of the New York boxing commission, the principals in the Walker-Leonard welterweight championship fight agreed to stage the contest on the night of Monday, September 22.

NEW YORK—Pancha Villa and Frankie Genaro have accepted terms to meet for the world's flyweight championship, and they are expected to sign articles Saturday, calling for the contest in Brooklyn on September 4.

NEW YORK—Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion, and Georges Carpentier, have been offered terms by the Queensboro A. C. to meet for the title on September 3 or 8.

20 STOCKS SOAR TO NEW HIGHS

Advance Is Led By Standard Industrials

MARKET STRONG AT CLOSE

Bullish Sentiment Created By Reparatons News

LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK (By Associated Press)—Stock prices bounded upward in today's brief session of the market.

Standard Industrials led the advance, which made the most headway in the steels, motors, merchandising, public utility, equipment, leather and metal shares, more than a score of which attained new peak prices for the year.

Bullish sentiment was created by the cheerful London reports of improvement contained in the weekly mercantile reviews. United States Steel duplicated its year's high at 110 while Mack Truck, American Smelting, Kennecott Copper, Allis Chalmers, American and American Radiator were among the many issues to break their previous 1924 high prices.

Rails were a bit sluggish except for Southern Railway which advanced for more than a point to a record top.

The closing was strong. Sales approximated 550,000 shares.

POSTOFFICE BOX MADE IN 1810

Inventor Was Postal Clerk at Richmond, Va.

WASHINGTON (By Associated Press)—Thomas Brown, a clerk in the Richmond, Va., post office in 1810, has been given official credit for having invented the postoffice box.

While there are no postoffice department records to show that Brown was the first to make and put the postoffice box in use, there is nothing on file to disprove the claim made for him by his great granddaughter, Miss Mary D. Lewis, of Tallahassee, Fla.

Postmaster General New, therefore, has replied to a letter from Mrs. Lewis presenting the claim by stating he is ready to give Brown the benefit of the doubt and acknowledge him as the inventor.

Brown's memoirs, published some time after his death, fully set forth the circumstances leading to the invention. He wrote: "I was the inventor of planner of postoffice boxes. These were times of embargo, non-intercourse, etc., and of course speculation was rife. The first news was important and therefore there was always a great rush to the post office as soon as the mail came in, for letters. The universal plan was to hand out letters from the front window. I have seen the whole street blocked by people waiting their turn to get to the window to ask for letters."

Brown was asked to devise a plan to remedy the situation. He did so by fitting a partition across a hole, room, filling it with pigeon holes, covered at one end with glass with each hole numbered in front and bearing the name of the holder at the open end. About 40 boxes were quickly engaged at 50 cents for each three months. Brown's plan is still utilized in post offices throughout the smaller cities and towns of the country.

PROGRESS IS MADE BY GERMAN WOMEN DOCTORS

BERLIN—German women doctors have made great strides since the empire became a republic and this summer attended European international medical congresses in larger numbers than in any other period. The leader of the German delegation which attended the Medical Women's International Association meeting in London recently is Dr. Heuser-Edenhuisen, a specialist in women's diseases, and who has a reputation in Berlin as high as any of her male colleagues.

Dr. Heuser-Edenhuisen is one of the pioneers of medicine for women in Germany and studied some years ago in the time when matriculation was impossible for female students and they had to beg each individual professor for permission to attend his lectures.

Dr. Lydia Rabinowitch-Kempner, of Berlin, a specialist in tuberculosis, Dr. Laura Turnau, of Berlin, an other German woman physician who attended the London association meeting.

MARSHALL FIELD REVIEW

Marshall Field & Co. in their weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade.

Current wholesale distribution of dry goods was weaker than in previous weeks, although falling slightly in volume of the correspondingly period last year. Road sales were about equal to last week's volume and exceeded the total recorded for the corresponding week in 1923.

There were more customers in market during the week period a sign of an excellent fall business prospect. Collections for the past four weeks have been somewhat better than last year for the same period.

Large Gains Also Scored In Wheat Quotations

CHICAGO (By Associated Press)—Feverish activity and sharply higher prices for all grain, especially corn, were witnessed today. Official predictions that no summer weather would come to Chicago and adjoining parts of the corn belt this season were largely responsible, owing to the unfavorable condition already of the corn crop as a whole. The most extreme advance in price was for May delivery of corn, which soared 5 1/4 to 1 1/2 1/2. The opening which varied from 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, was followed by many swift changes within the initial range, but mostly near to the top level.

Reports of frost in Canada gave added strength to the wheat market and so, too, did apparent likelihood that a settlement with Germany would be successfully completed tonight. The upward course of the corn market, however, was also a leading factor. Speculative buying of wheat was on a huge scale. After opening 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, September 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, and December 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, the wheat market sagged somewhat, but then made rapid irregular gains that extended 2 to 3 1/2 above yesterday's close.

Oats and provisions shared in the advance of other commodities. Corn closed excited at 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, and December 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, and May 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2.

The wheat close was very unsettled 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, higher, September 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, and December 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, and May 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2.

FATHER TURNS BACK ON KILLER

Michigan Slayer Of Girl Denounced By Parent

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—(By Associated Press)—Emil Zupke, confessed slayer of his discarded sweetheart, Cora May Rader, was told in no uncertain terms last night that he may expect no help from his family. Standing behind the bars of his cell in the Berrien Co. jail, he heard his aged father, publicly denounce him and refuse him 15 cents for cigarettes.

White with anger, the father, accompanied by the youth's brother and sister, came to the jail for the first time since Emil's arrest.

"Get a lawyer for you? We'll get nothing," he said. "You've made your bed, now you can lie in it. We are thru with you. You spend the rest of your life in jail. When your mother and I begged you to give up your bad habits and be our boy again what did you do? You laughed at us. Now you can suffer for it."

COUNCIL FOR GIRL. Council has been provided for Florence McKinney, who is alleged to have driven Zupke's car on the night Miss Rader, expecting to be married to Zupke, was driven to her death.

Zupke and Miss McKinney were given a preliminary hearing in justice court late yesterday but neither was permitted to enter plea. Zupke will have opportunity to make his plea which he said would be "guilty," in circuit court Sept. 15.

Miss McKinney, still apparently taking her predicament lightly, demanded an examination which was fixed for Aug. 22. She has previously stated she will enter a plea of not guilty upon arraignment in circuit court.

PRODUCE REVIEW

BY SWIFT & CO. Demand for produce has shown improvement the past week, with considerable decrease in the receipts at the produce market. Prices are increasing.

This is the season when the trade shows for high quality and it is this that commands top prices, further emphasizing the importance and advantage to producers of taking care of their crops by keeping in a cool place and gathering daily.

The stock of chickens in storage is very moderate and a good demand is being shown. Fresh eggs are considerably heavier than at present.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture in a report issued August 17 shows butter and eggs in storage. Butter, 1923, 101,740,000 lbs. 1924, 101,740,000 lbs. Eggs, 1923, 101,740,000 lbs. 1924, 101,740,000 lbs.

Butter market quotations are practically unchanged, higher prices being paid for 32 count. This produces a considerable increase in current requirements and liberal quantities are going into storage.

EGGS—1923, 101,740,000 lbs. 1924, 101,740,000 lbs. Eggs, 1923, 101,740,000 lbs. 1924, 101,740,000 lbs.
